

DIY Colour Game

What you need...

- + Crayola markers
- + Paper plate
- + HB pencils
- + Ruler
- + Clothespins/ pegs

What to do:

1. Use ruler to trace and divide upside-down paper plate into 8 equal sections.
2. Fill in each section with a different marker colour
3. On clothespin, write name of a paper plate colour in its corresponding colour. Add small colour swatch to end of clothespin.
4. Repeat step 3 for remaining 7 colours.
5. Mix up clothespins and have your child clip them to their corresponding colours. It's a fun way to help teach colour recognition!

Need help?

Watch this handy step by step video by Crayola!

Is your child learning a new language? Try writing the colour names in a new language to teach both colours and words!

